SLAYERS AND ROBBERS ARE TRAPPED IN POLICE NET

Eleven Taken Into Custody Over Week-End

PISTOL BATTLE

Four Are Wounded As Constables Fight Bandits

Armed robbers, whose activities in the Settlement have been carried on at an alarming rate for several weeks past, had all the worst of it in their conflict with the forces of law over the week-end, when widespread dragnets laid by the Settlement police resulted in the arrest of eight men accused in connection with recent armed robberies and murders and three others who were in possession of arms at the time of their arrest.

Whether directly due to the activity of the police or not, there was a noticeable slowing up in the recent crime wave. Only one armed robbery was reported to the Settlement police over the week-end. Another armed robbery in the French Concession had as its sequel a sensational pistol battle between police of the French and International Concessions and the robber gang in which stray bullets killed one pedestrian and wounded three others. One of the robbers was caught by Settlement police.

In an effort to put a stop to the depredations of outlaws, practically every available man on the Settlement police force was put out on patrol Saturday and Sunday. Search parties were organised in various districts known as haunts of robber gangs. One such search party, composed of four Chinese constables in plain clothes, commanded by foreign Constable Turner of the Hongkew station, succeeded, after a desperate battle, in arresting a gunman who has already confessed to two sensational holdups in the Settlement recently.

ADMITS TWO HOLDUPS

The police party was walking down Yuenfong Road near Seward Road Sunday afternoon. One of the Chinese constables had his suspicions attracted by an exceptionally well-dressed Chinese who was on the road at the time. The constable stopped the man and attempted to search him. As he did so, the suspect drew an automatic pistol from under his gown. Constable Turner, who was two yards away at the time, rushed to the assistance of the Chinese constable, and seized the

BRITISH ENVOY UNALARMED BY ARMS CHARGES

No Protests Against Treaty Violations Lodged, Sir Esme Says

(Reuter's American Service)

Washington, Nov. 30.—The British Ambassador, Sir Esme Howard, in a speech here today said that he did not attach any importance to the charges that Britain was not carrying out the terms of the Washington Treaty for the Limitation of Naval Armaments. Sir Esme pointed out that neither the United States, France nor Italy had made any protest to London so it was left to private citizens to make these "alarming disclosures."

Sir Esme Howard was evidently referring to Mr. Shearer's recent unsuccessful appolication for an injunction against the destruction of the dreadnought Washington.

NINE SENTENCED TO EXECUTION BY THE MIXED COURT

Drastic Punishment To Be Meted Out To Chinese Guilty Of Armed Robbery

Nine Chinese were sentenced to execution by Mixed Court yesterday when they appeared on armed robbery charges, extending over a period of more than six months.

Magistrate Foh and Assessor Martin sentenced three of the men, with Magistrate Li and Assessor Whitamore passing out the death sentence to the other six.

The nine men were included in the score or more of Chinese accused of robberies, larcenies, loitering and returning from expulsion.

Four other Chinese were before the court for armed robbery at 1060 Broadway, November 27. Their cases were remanded two weeks.

The men sentenced to execution were declared to be members of robber gangs and other arrests are expected to be made by police within a few weeks.

The men will be held in the municipal jail until it has been determined to whom they will be sent for execution.

The addition of these men give the municipal jail "executionees" colony a population of 18.

The following Chinese received the death sentences: Liang Kyung-yoong, Tsu Sai, Li Sian Tsu-tze, Tsang Ah-foh, Woong

American University Is Termed "Winter Resort"

The American university—
Where pleasures are carried to the extreme.
Where idealism of foreign students is jarred by the materialism of American students.
A glorious joyride, used by hundreds of youths as a winter resort
Filled with social abuses.
Where $200,000 gold and more is spent on one football game, with thousands starving in the United States and foreign countries.

Those are a few of the views of Mr. A. J. Elliott, Y. M. C. A. worker in American colleges, making a visit to China to foster better relations between Chinese and American students, expressed at the Sunday services of the Community Church.

The Chinese youth accepts Christianity in China, goes to the United States to college and there many of them lose that Christianity because of the way things are done in the colleges, Mr. Elliott said. More converts are lost than won among foreign students in the American universities, he said.

And the materialism is carried into the business life of America. Thousands go to church and pray on Sunday. And the rest of the week they prey on fellow citizens. They repeal child labor laws and profit on the industry of children.

But there still is hope, Mr. Elliott believes. It is no time for despondency, he says. A minority group of students is to be found in every college. The groups are small, sometimes only three or four, but their influence will be felt in time, Mr. Elliott believes.

Five planks have been adopted by the minority group in their campaign for world betterment. They seek a method of abolishing wars, of getting more Christianity into business, of establishing a Christian standard for international dealings, of elimination of race hatreds and of formation of more Christian units.

The war question has been made the first problem because it is that biggest one, Mr. Elliott said. A group of 38 at the University of Chicago have gone through great trials because of their stand against war as an economic waste. Veterans of the world war are members of the group. Many have declared that they would rather die than go to war. Their patriotism is of the highest sort but they are working for an internation feeling to gather force in the doing away with wars.

Mr. Elliott is bringing to China, Japan, Korea and the Philippines the message of the American group for abolition of war. He is carrying his message to students of those countries to get them to thinking along the same lines. In China he will visit Peking, Tientsin, Chefoo, Foochow, Canton, Shanghai, Japan, Korea and the Philippines will be visited later.

BANDIT RAID IS STAGED IN TOWN CLOSE TO WUSIH

Villagers Near Shanghai-Nanking Railway Line Are Victims

(China Press Correspondence)

Wusih, Ku., November 30.—Yesterday afternoon an organised band of forty armed robbers attacked a market town named Yangshihyuen and after killing one man and wounding three others took what they wanted from the town and departed. These men were armed with modern firearms of the automatic type and are reported by the peasants, who came to the Mission Hospital here bringing the wounded men, to be deserted soldiers.

This raid will be interesting to Shanghai people, because it was carried out within about three miles of a station on the Shanghai-Nanking Railway called Loshe, which is a few miles west of the Wusih Station.

U. S. IS URGED TO REAFFIRM MERCANTILE MARINE PLAN

Report Of Shipping Board Is Made Public

TAX EXEMPTIONS

Aid Asked For Lines Used In Foreign Trade

(Reuter's American Service)

Washington, Nov. 30.—The annual report of the United States Shipping Board recommends that Congress should strongly reaffirm the determination of the United States to maintain permanently a mercantile marine commensurate with the needs of the country from the standpoint of commerce and national defence and also recommends creation of a joint committee composed of representatives of the Board and the Inter-State Commerce Commission to co-ordinate rail and water transportation. The report also urges legal prohibition of preferential arrangements between American railways and foreign shipping lines and exemption from taxation of all earnings of American shipping employed in foreign trade but does not enter into details as to how these aims may be accomplished.

ANNOUNCE COMBINE

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 1.—The Cunard, White Star and American lines announce the completion of arrangements to conduct a joint passenger and Cargo service between Hamburg and New York embracing Southampton, Cherbourg and Halifax.

It is not explained whether the arrangements are in any way connected with the severe cutting of rates by the leading German lines, especially in connection with the immigrant trade to South America, which in the case of Germany alone increased from 36,000 to 115,000 in the past year.

CAPTIVITY OF TSAO KUN'S KIN ENDS IN DEATH

Tsao Jui, Brother Of Former President, Succumbs; Feng Blamed

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, December 1.—Mr. Tsao jui, the brother of the ex-President and former Civil Governor of Chihli, who has been in captivity by General Feng Yu-hsiang since the coup d'etat, was taken to the Peking Union Medical College Hospital yesterday, where he died three hours after admittance.

The cause of his death is stated to be acidosis, which is the final stage of diabetes.

Marshal Tsao Kun has been acutely afflicted with diabetes for some years, but his brother's death from the same complaint has caused surprise.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, December 1.—Mr. Tsao jui had been imprisoned in the Palace with ex-President Tsao Kun. His health there seemed to be normal though both brothers suffered from poor food and cold, the Palace being insufficiently provided with coal.

On Saturday General Feng Yu-hsiang's agents removed Mr. Tsao jui to the police station where he remained for twenty-four hours and was then removed to the hospital in a dying condition.

The incident is causing fresh criticism of General Feng and throws a light on the peculiar situation at the Capital where General Feng's men retain control of the Palace and are generally considered to be a sinister menace to Marshal Tuan's plans; but it is believed that the impending arrival of more Fengtien troops will give stability to the new Government.

SOVIET PLOT FOR REVOLT IS SEEN IN JUGO-SLAVIA

Sensational Charges Are Voiced By Newspaper

RADITCH LEADER

Revolt Move Extends All Over Central Europe

(Reuter's Service)

Belgrade, Nov 30.—Commenting on a report of a discovery of certain documents in the Soviet Legation in Vienna, the newspaper Politika understands that they concerned dealings between M. Raditch, the Leader of the Croatian Peasants' Party and the Third International for the establishment of a Soviet in Jugo-Slavia. A detachment in Croatia is stirring up a seditious movement capable of leading to the domination of Moscow throughout Central Europe. It appears that a revolution was to break out at the end of January on the eve of the elections in Jugo-Slavia coincidentally with incursions by Macedonian and Kossoviet bands into Southern Serbia. The paper states that the Soviet through its delegation in Vienna is sending considerable sums to M. Raditch and his agents in Bulgaria and Albania. The Belgrade Government is taking all necessary precautions in that connection.

Egyptian Premier Will Take Cure At European Resort, Belief

(Reuter's Service)

Cairo, Nov. 30.—Documents have been formally exchanged whereby the Government accepts the remainder of the British terms.

(Reuter's Service)

Cairo, Dec. 1.—Though up to the present no official statement has been issued, it is understood that as the result of continual conferences yesterday the Government has accepted the British demands, the first immediate consequence of which will probably be evacuation of the Customs of Alexandria.

(Reuter's Service)

Cairo, Nov. 29.—An official statement says that the situation at Khartum is well in hand. The mutiny was confined to two platoons of the 11th Sudanese Regiment, the survivors of which have surrendered after bombardment of the compound of the Egyptian Army Hospital. Two British officers were killed and eight men wounded.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 29.—Official details received in London show that the mutiny in the Sudan started on the evening of November 27 when two platoons of the 11th Sudanese Regiment with two Vickers' guns were encountered in the Khedival Avenue near the Egyptian Army Hospital by two British platoons. Both forces were facing each other at a distance of 150 yards. A British officer unsuccessfully tried to persuade the mutineers to obey orders. A black officer acted as spokesman for the mutineers.

Towards dusk the Acting Sirdar arrived and addressed the mutineers. Someone in the darkness shouted in Arabic that the mutineers refused to recognise the Acting Sirdar. The latter again asked if the mutineers would take orders. The answer returned in the negative and orders were then given to round up the mutineers.

When addressing the mutineers who were en route to Gordon College at the time, the British officer and Colonel Hudleston, the Acting Sirdar, advanced alone in front of the British contingent. Colonel Hudleston emphasising his identity. The behaviour of the rest of the Sudanese troops

Elimination Of Feng Is Only Definite Result Of Recent Events In North

Ousting Of "Boy Emperor" Was Too Much For Chang Tso-lin; Manchurian Warlord Is Now Well Established In Vicinity Of Capital

BY LAWRENCE IMPEY
(Special to The China Press)

Peking, Nov. 25.—The conference in Tientsin has broken up and the Big Three have adjourned to Peking without waiting for the arrival of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, a fact which many people interpret as an indication that little or no attention will be paid to the wishes and ideas of the former Cantonese leader. The sequence of events during the last few days has served to show that the situation is as yet by no means stabilised, and that although Chang Tso-lin is the man of the hour and although his nominee Tuan Chi-jui has assumed office, there is no certitude as to how long it will be before the pendulum commences the return swing, and Wu Pei-fu or some other militarist appears on the scene once more.

The only factor who, in the opinion of the writer, has been really eliminated is General Feng Yu-hsiang, and this more from his own fault than by the actions of others. His understanding with Mukden as to the original coup went very well up to a point but either through the machinations of the Russians or the persuasions of Dr. C. T. Wang, the second coup against the young Emperor was decided upon, and from this act most of Feng's troubles may be said to originate.

Firstly, the prompt action of Mr. R. F. Johnston, the Emperor's tutor, in warning the various Legations of what had occurred, caused diplomatic representations to be made at the Waichiaopu long before Chinese officialdom had expected it, with the result that the coup blew up when half way through. Secondly, according to Chinese accounts, the treasures found in the Forbidden City by no means came up to expectations, while the widespread interest in the subject which was displayed by foreign newspapers and nationals prevented their being handled to the best advantage. Thirdly, the forcible removal and imprisonment of Hsuan Tung greatly exasperated Marshal Chang Tso-lin, for not only is the Mukden warlord an autocrat of the old school but he is also under a considerable debt of gratitude to the Manchu house for favors received in the past.

A GENTLE HINT

These three factors, operating together, may be said to have destroyed General Feng Yu-hsiang's

BOY EMPEROR'S FUTURE PLANS ARE UNDECIDED

Hsuan Tung Stays In Japanese Legation While His Aides Confer

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Peking, Dec. 1.—Hsuan Tung, former Emperor of China, will remain as a guest in the Japanese Legation until his departure at some time in the future for the United States by way of Japan.

The residence of Hsuan Tung at the Japanese Legation has caused considerable embarrassment to Mr. Yoshizawa, Japanese Minister, as he himself has five children and the minister's residence is already crowded.

The former emperor's two wives will join him at the Legation tomorrow.

It is authoritatively stated that Hsuan Tung's teachers first requested the British and Dutch legations to extend hospitality to him, but the British and Dutch ministers are said to have hesitated over the proposal, suggesting rather that Mr. Yoshizawa would be an ideal host under the present circumstances. Mr. Yoshizawa also hesitated about offering a residence in the Japanese Legation to the former ruler and his entourage, but in the meantime Hsuan Tung, who had been stopping at the German Hospital, arrived at the Legation

SECOND OPIUM CONFERENCE IS STALEMATE, TOO

Conflict Between American And Indian Delegates May Cause Deadlock

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Nov. 30.—The conflict between the American and Indian delegates at the Second Opium Conference threatens to produce a deadlock similar to that existing at the first Conference. The President may have to decide between the opposing views or the matter may be referred to the Council of the League of Nations, as the Americans have declined Sir J. Campbell's proposal to refer the question of the interpretation of the Hague Convention to the Permanent Court of International Justice.

Mr. Clayton (Burmah) in the course of a forcible speech on Friday declared that the Government of India held that the present system of opium control in India was legitimate in the fullest sense under the Hague Convention and the best and most effective method under prevailing conditions in India of enforcing the principles of the Convention. Mr. Clayton added that India was prepared to discuss and defend that position but not in a conference where the subject was deliberately excluded.

A very important debate is anticipated tomorrow.

Caledonian Ball More Brilliant Than Others

Last night's Caledonian Ball at Town Hall, the annual celebration of the St. Andrew's Society of Shanghai, was just a little gayer, just a little more brilliant than any previous affairs of the Scot community of Shanghai.

It might have been the fact that it was the diamond jubilee of the organisation of the society. It might have been the fact that Mr. Brodie A. Clarke, the only living Shanghai resident who attended the first celebration here 60 years ago, is president of the society this year, his second time within the period of the organisation of the society. It might have been the fact that Shanghai residents are lighter of heart these days.

But the fact remains that the ball was the most brilliant.

Approximately 1,500 persons attended. Highest officialdom of Shanghai was there. The majority of the consulates general were represented. Naval officers from the British, American, Japanese and Italian warships in the river were official guests and added to the program.

The hall was interestingly decorated with the clan names and coats of arms and branches of many of the Highland Scots. Scabbards and crossed spears were placed below the clan coats of arms.

On one side of the ball were the names, in silhouette, of all past presidents of the Shanghai society. Only a few of the men whose names appeared on the lists are in Shanghai now, members said last night.

A large picture of the patron saint, St. Andrew, surrounded by the four flags, three with lions and one with the Irish harp, occupied one end of the hall. The Union Jack with two stags' heads formed the decoration at the other end.

The ceiling decoration was in the form of a large diamond, in honor of the diamond jubilee. The St. Andrew's Cross in blue and white was found in the center of the ceiling decoration.

Peking-Hankow Rail Service To Be Resumed

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Nov. 30.—Marshal Wu Pei-fu addressed to Marshal Tuan Chi-jui a telegram dated November 27, expressing his decision to give up his hostile actions and pledging his allegiance to the Central Government. As a consequence, Marshal Tuan today gave telegraphic instructions to General Hu Ching-yi to stop further advances and await the settlement of the situation by the Central Government.

(Eastern News Agency)

Hankow, Nov. 30.—It is reported that the troops under the command of Marshal Wu Pei-fu and General Hu Ching-yi in Honan have decided to suspend hostilities and that the traffic on the Kin-Han line will be reopened within a week.

(China Press Correspondence)

Kaifeng, Hunan, Nov. 29.—The Peace Commission (Mi Ping Hwei) initiated by General Chang Fang, a retired officer, of Chengchow, has just moved its headquarters from that city to Kaifeng. General Chang is the Chairman and W. W. Cline, foreign secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., is one of the directors.

General Chang and the members of the commission arrived in Kaifeng November 28 and were met by representatives of the various local institutions who welcomed the party on their arrival.

According to private information, though not confirmed, some horsemen, supposed to be part of the cavalry of Marshal Chang Tso-lin, have appeared near Hwahsien about fifty miles north of Kaifeng. It is possible that they have made a flank movement to cut off the possible retreat of the Honan troops in case of their defeat at Changteh by the northern army, the latter being under General Hu Ching-yi. It is certain now that fighting has been going on at Changteh for several days and Honan troops are concentrated at that place and Fenglochen.

The Kin-Han railway bridge over the Yellow River north of Chengchow is strongly guarded, but it is reported that some troops, from which side is not yet known, have crossed to the south side of the river at a point some miles east of Kaifeng.

The Chinese of this city and Chengchow are in a state of consternation over the immediate prospects of wholesale looting at the hands of retreating and defeated soldiers, but up to date none has occurred.

All the government schools of Kaifeng except Chungchow University have closed as has also Kaifeng Baptist College and students have fled to their homes in various parts of the province.

FIRE DESTROYS POOTUNG WHARF SHOP BUILDING

Serious Outbreak At International Wharf Averted By Work Of Brigade

Four more alarms on Sunday and yesterday kept members of the Settlement Fire Brigade busy.

The most serious outbreak occurred in the carpenters' shop at the International wharf on the Pootung side of the Whangpoo, where a considerable loss was averted only by the prompt and efficient action of brigade units which were sent to the scene.

The fire at the wharf was first sighted by Central Watch Tower at 12:18 o'clock yesterday morning. A number of firemen from Yangtszepoo division crossed the river in sampans. They found the carpenters' shop on the wharf in flames and immediately got to work from the wharf installation, holding the fire until the arrival of men from Central Division on the Brigade float which had also turned out as soon as the alarm was received. The pumps on the Brigade float were got to work and the fire was soon surrounded and held.

In the early stages of the fire, the supports of the building burned through, causing the structure to collapse. The falling sheets of corrugated iron and the heavy timbers were hauled into the open to the southeast of the building and damped down, leaving a clear gap at the dividing wall forming the gable of the foundry. The fire had secured a hold in the heavy timber supports embedded in the walls of the foundry and in the woodwork of the ventilator running the entire length of the shops, and difficulty was experienced in tackling these portions as the water rendered the roof dangerous owing to the corrugated iron sheets freezing over. Eventually, however, the flames were subdued, and when the Customs float, manned by Central Division, arrived, their assistance was not required. Damage was confined to the carpenters' shop. The fire is believed to have started from an overheated stove.

Hongkong Division was called out at 6:40 o'clock Sunday night to a fire in a dwelling house in an alleyway off North Kiangse Road, where an unprotected stove had set fire to a wooden partition. A handpump sufficed to extinguish the outbreak.

Fire broke out at 8:05 a.m. yesterday in a matshed in the compound of the General Forge Products Company, 80 Lincheng Road. Yangtszepoo Division checked the spread of the flames, which are believed to have been caused by the fusing of an electric wire.

Central Division responded to an alarm turned in from the Electricity Department's showrooms in Nanking Road at 10:08 a.m. The outbreak originated in the boiler room at the rear of the showrooms, where the roor beams were in flames. A chemical extinguisher was sufficient to put out the fire, with small loss.

Opposition Plans Attack On Fascisti

(Reuter's Service)

Milan, Dec. 1.—There were 70 Opposition Deputies among a thousand participants of an anti-Fascist meeting here today over which Signor Turati presided. The proceedings were private but according to the published versions of a number of speeches Signor Amendola (Democrat) said that the Opposition aimed at complete restoration of political freedom. Signor Fauchinetti (Republican) declared that Italians must regain their freedom, if necessary by force.

and requested room and board. The courtesies of the occasion required that he be received by the Japanese.

The Japanese immediately notified the Waichiaopu with regard to the matter but to date no reply has been received.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Nov. 30.—The ex-Emperor, Hsuan Tung, is now confining himself to a room in the Japanese Legation. Those, who have accompanied Hsuan Tung, are Messrs. Chen Pao-shen, Lo Chen-yu, Tao Pei-le, Ko Chao-min and Johnston.

Immediately after the entry into the Japanese Legation of the ex-Emperor and his entourage, Mr. Yoshizawa, Japanese Minister sent to the Waichiaopu Mr. Ikebe, Councillor, who notified Mr. Shen, Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs, of the full particulars about the movements of the ex-Emperor, and asked the Vice-Minister to make a report in this connection to Marshal Tuan Chi-jui.

What steps the ex-Emperor will take in the immediate future will be decided as a result of consultation among his entourage.

While it is reported that the ex-Emperor will shortly visit Japan and then make a tour of America and Europe, judging from all available accounts it appears that no definite conclusion has been reached in this respect.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Dec. 1.—Detectives are closely watching the Japanese Legation where the ex-Emperor is expected to remain indefinitely. Legation officials state that they have no inkling of ex-Emperor Hsuan Tung's future plans.

They explain that on Saturday afternoon the ex-Emperor's tutor, Mr. Johnston, called on Mr. Yoshizawa and requested on behalf of the ex-Emperor, in view of the disquieting rumors indicating that his life was in jeopardy, that the latter be afforded shelter.

Mr. Yoshizawa undertook to consider the matter and give his decision later. Mr. Johnston thereupon departed. Shortly afterwards ex-Emperor Hsuan Tung presented himself at the Legation Guard House. Mr. Yoshizawa then resolved to invite him to stay in his house, notifying the Waichiaopu to this effect.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 29.—Ex-Emperor Hsuan Tung this afternoon took refuge in the Japanese Legation where he is remaining. There does not seem to have been any cause for him to fear immediate danger.

The action of the ex-Emperor is probably due to recent persistent rumors of impending trouble in Peking at the instance of General Feng Yu-hsiang according to which the safety of Marshals Chang Tso-lin and Tuan Chi-jui are imperilled through General Feng Yu-hsiang's disappointment at not securing an important post in the new Government. Obviously the ex-Emperor had not the slightest reason to fear danger at the hands of Marshals Chang or Tuan but if a clash occurred between General Feng and Marshal Chang the immediate result would be General Feng's resumption of control in Peking as his troops largely outnumber the Fengtien forces in Peking. The situation then would represent grave peril to ex-Emperor Hsuan Tung.

The Legations were quickly made acquainted of this development which seems to have been carried out solely on the ex-Emperor's initiative.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Nov. 30.—Japanese special correspondents from Peking state that the ex-Emperor Hsuan Tung called on the Japanese Minister, Mr. Yoshizawa, in the afternoon on November 29. The special correspondent of the Jiji adds that he requested the good offices of the Japanese Legation to enable him to proceed to Mukden via Tientsin.

The Department of Communications announces an interruption of cables with Peking.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 30.—The Japanese Legation is expected to make a statement with regard to the ex-Emperor Hsuan Tung. In the meantime it is understood that the ex-Emperor intends to visit Japan and proceed from there to America and Europe, but that Marshal Tuan Chi-jui is endeavoring to persuade him to return to his father's palace.

Berlin To Give French Prisoner For Nathusius

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Nov. 30.—The German Ambassador has expressed to M. Herriot Germany's satisfaction at the release of General von Nathusius. He added that the Reich will release a Frenchman detained in Germany.

Le Petit Parisien remarks that the ambassador's step does not mean that Germany recognises the sentence condemning General von Nathusius, but the German Government makes a distinction between its attitude and that of the German Nationalists who are trying to use the affair for election purposes.

Feng Again Tenders Resignation; Really Quitting, Is Belief

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Dec. 1.—General Feng Yu-hsiang today once again tendered his resignation to Marshal Tuan. General Chang Hsueh-liang and General Yang Yu-ting, Chief Councillor and concurrently President of the Army Consolidation Bureau of Three Eastern Provinces, on the ground that he intended to go abroad to inspect conditions in foreign countries. It is now observed that General Feng's resignation is absolute and conclusive.

chances in the political arena for good, at least if the reports current in Tientsin are to be believed. The first result of the foregoing was shown in the illness of the Christian general last week, when visitors were unable to see him for two days. It is to be doubted whether it was the intention of any party to actually remove Feng, or they would have made a better job of it, but it may well be that it was meant as a gentle hint as to what might happen, and as an indication that those interested considered that the General's usefulness in Chinese politics was at an end. It seems that he has taken the hint in good time, for it is now said that it is his intention to resign all his posts and take a vacation in Europe and America. One may therefore imagine the gatherings in the United States to hear General Feng's famous account of "How I saved China."

In any case it is just as well that this decision to withdraw from the political stage for the time being has been arrived at by Feng, for Marshal Chang Tso-lin was undoubtedly making his own preparations to eliminate the danger spot by force if necessary. Observers of the situation at the conference in Tientsin were deceived by the apparent lack of military movements, pointing out to each other with considerable satisfaction that practically no troops were travelling along the railways. This was true up to a certain point, but what these gentlemen failed to notice was that a large number of soldiers were travelling from the north as far as Tongshan, detraining there, and vanishing into the blue, while many of the brigades which had originally gone down the Tsinpu line from Tientsin had also left the railhead and switched across country for some destination unknown.

FIGHTING IN SHANTUNG

To enable them to do this it was necessary to stop the war which had broken out on the Shantung border between the Mukden forces and the provincial troops which were defending the arsenal at Tehchow. This was accordingly done, and the more willingly because the Shantungese had already defeated three separate advances upon the coveted arsenal, driving back the inadequate Mukden forces of Russian and Chinese troops with heavy losses.

Thus when it became known in Tientsin that Chang Tso-lin intended to proceed to Peking in a few days time, the majority of people expressed surprise that he would thus risk himself in the midst of Feng Yu-hsiang's guards with only a small escort, for very few realised that these secret movements by road had enabled the Mukden warlord to group some thirty or forty thousand troops within striking distance of the capital. While mentioning the departure for Peking one may well narrate the inner history of why Tuan Chi-jui and Feng Yu-hsiang went up on the 22nd and Marshal Chang delayed his departure for another two days, alleging as an excuse that the redecoration of his house in the capital was not yet completed.

It appears that the proprietor of a well known Peking daily paper called on Chang and pointed out to him that if the Big Three went up together their welcome and the "face" must be shared equally, while if he delayed his triumphal entry until the following Monday he would be the sole recipient of the tributes of officialdom and the Presidential band. This argument carried great weight, and the ceremony was thus arranged, an amusing commentary on customs and ideas Chinese. In departing for Peking, however, the Triumvirate have left several interesting little problems behind them for political and diplomatic circles to ponder over.

THE SEBASTIANO CABOTO

The first is in connection with the reported sale of the Italian gunboat Sebastiano Caboto to Mukden, the price named being $500,000. Fortunately or unfortunately, as the case may be, a Tientsin daily gave undue prominence to the negotiations before they were well under way, with the result that the Italians indignantly disclaimed all knowledge of such a deal. It certainly would seem to be a flagrant defiance of the Washington Conference if such an agreement had been put through, but the fact that it is denied will not count for much with those who remember how strenuously the Italians denied the sale of arms and artillery to Wu Pei-fu last year, although the writer saw trucks of the said war material up at Chinwangtao during October, still in the original crates with the Italian lettering and addresses on them.

The next point which is being discussed in Tientsin at the moment, is what are the intentions of Ataman Semenoff, now residing in the Japanese Concession, for it is commonly reported that his recent arrival is in connection with the Russian brigade now fighting under Chang Tso-lin's banner. Recent recruiting in Peking and Tientsin has added some three or four hundred to the ranks of these Legionaries, while further battalions of them are being trained at Mukden, so that it seems as if they may be intended as a permanent addition to the fighting units of North China. As was suggested yesterday, if the powers that be really wish to square their account with Mr. Karakhan all they need do is to delegate some one to ring up on the long distance phone and inform His Excellency that the Russian Legion is in revolt and marching on Poking to seize the Embassy. Whether, as was remarked, the Soviet representative would take the next train for Kaigan and Urga would remain to be seen.

Play Starts In Foreign Basketball League With Games On Two Floors

Scott Company Wins From Strokeside Quintet 30 To 13; Recs Victors Over Orioles By 15 To 12

The Foreign Basketball League opened its season last night with games at the Pavilion and the Rowing Club. The game played at the Rowing Club resulted in a victory for Scott Company (the Baseball Club) over Strokeside (one of the two Rowing Club's teams). The other game, at Pioneer Pavilion, was a win for the S. R. C. quintet, who played the Orioles.

SCOTT 30; STROKESIDE 13

In the game at the Rowing Club the Scott Company quintet defeated the Strokeside team by a score of 30 to 13. The play was not brilliant, neither team showing a very high standard of play, but both will undoubtedly improve as the season advances. The Americans, particularly, have had very little opportunity for practice, having started work less than a fortnight ago.

The Strokeside team put up a better exhibition than the score shows, and exhibited flashes of good team play at times, but the Americans had a big advantage over them in size, which counted for much. The Americans played an aggressive game throughout, while the Strokeside boys were frequently slow and ineffective. Five of the latter's thirteen points were from free throws on fouls by the Scott quintet.

The game was divided into four eight-minute quarters. Things looked pretty even at first, each team scoring a goal in the first few minutes of play. Strokeside was here given an opportunity to take the lead with a foul throw, but Brown failed to net the ball, and the Americans scored three more goals before the end of the quarter, when the score stood 8—2.

Goals from floor:—Smith 6, Claire 6, Brown 3, Bullard 1, Shephard 1, Vach 1, Dodd 1.

Goals from fouls:—Brown 3, Dodd 1.

Referee, Harry Kingman.

RECS 15, ORIOLES 12

In the other League bame, played at the Pavilion, the Recreation Club team defeated the Orioles by a score of 15 to 12. The Recs started well, opening the score, and soon added a second goal. Then the play became scrappy, and neither team could find the basket, possibly owing to lack of practice. The first half ended with the Recs leading by 5 to 2.

The second half saw both teams playing a better game. The Orioles came twice within point of tying the score, but the Recs. pushed ahead again every time. The score of the second half was 10 all.

The Orioles were handicapped by the absence of Kabelitz, who had his knee injured in a previous game.

The score:—

Recs,		Orioles
J. Johansson	r.f.	Upson, Moalem
Carlson	l.f.	Bell
Bracket	c.	Johnston
G. Johansson	r.g.	Jesu, Lewis
Terdy	l.g.	Mahon

Goals from floor: Carlson 3, Moalem 3; J. Johansson 2; G. Johansson, Bell, Johnston, Mahon, 1.

Goals from foul: Carlson 2; J. Johansson 1.

Referee: Dr. Gray.

Smith started off the second quarter with an excellent goal from the corner. Another basket by him, and two by Verne Claire, brought the figure up to 16 by the end of the half. In the meantime Lach, for Strokeside, had scored a goal from a foul, and the score stood 16 to 3 at half-time.

SECOND HALF

Strokeside started off the second half with a rush, and after a flash of fine team-work Brown popped the ball into the basket. They failed to continue their good work, however, the Americans getting the ball on the next jump and Smith putting it into the basket. Claire then scored, and though Brown put through a third goal for Strokeside, the Americans increased their score still further, and the Strokeside quintet never had a look-in.

At the beginning of the last quarter Strokeside started off with a rush again, but failed to maintain it. Dodd scored an excellent field goal, but the Americans added several baskets, and the game ended 30 to 13, the Strokeside players having scored four goals from fouls in the second half.

In general, Strokeside put up a better game in the second half, particularly at the start of each quarter, than in the first half, and with a little more spirited playing they may develop into a formidable team. Brown was their principal scorer last night, and played excellently. Smith and Claire did well for Scott Company.

The score:

Strokeside: Brown r.f., Dodd l.f., Raven c., Broomhall r.g., Lach l.g.

Scott Company: Smith r.f., Shephard, Bullard l.f., Claire c., Mitchell, Kimley r.g., Bullard, Vach l.g.

ONE GAME POSTPONED

The second game scheduled for the Rowing Club floor, between the Club's "Bowside" team and the Machine Gunners' quintet, was postponed, the Bowside team failing to have a full team present. The game will be played off at a later date.

The second evening's play in the League will be at the Pavilion tonight. The Portuguese quintet is due to meet the Koreans, and the American Navy boys will play the Canadian team. Good contests are expected.

BASKETBALL PLAY NOW UNDER WAY IN CHINESE LEAGUE

All-Whites And Fuh Tan Have Easy Wins; All-Blacks Defeat Day School

The Chinese Basketball League started play with a game Saturday night and two more last night. In Saturday night's game, which was unfortunately omitted from our paper Sunday owing to lack of space, the All-White, last year's champions, had an easy time of it with the All-Blacks, winning by a score of 52 to 14. In last night's games the Fuh Tan quintet, who will probably be the All-Whites' most serious rivals this year, had still easier time of it with the China National College, winning by a score of 62 to 4, while the All-Blacks defeated the Y. M. C. A. Day School team in a close contest by 30 to 22.

FUH TAN HAS WALKOVER

The Fuh Tan University team had a walkover with the China National College quintet, which is a new aggregation and has not yet gotten into real playing form. Lee, the University center, opened the score, and Whang followed with a good shot. Then Fuh Tan had the game all their own way, and piled up the score until they tired of scoring. The College was no match for the husky University men, and first half ended with the score at 36-0.

With this substantial lead, Fuh Tan put in three substitutes, who found some difficulty to score at the beginning but soon rolled up the score. Yui, of the College team, dropped in two goals from the floor in succession, and registered four points for his team, which was all the scoring they

Annual Pistol Championship

The annual .45 caliber revolver and pistol championship, held here last month by the Shanghai Miniature Rifle and Revolver Club, closed Sunday. Some excellent shooting was done in this shoot, in which Standard American 20-yard targets, kindly presented by the Remington U. M. C. Co., were used. Conditions were 10 shots at 15 yards and 10 at 20 yards, either hand, no time limit.

The meet was open to all comers, and there were many competitors, most of them connected with the Volunteer Corps, though several entries from the British ship Carlisle did very well. High score was made by Mr. T. O. C. Freeman, the Revolver Club Instructor, who is in the Championship Class, and receives the gold bar. Mr. E. A. Sykes receives the championship gold medal, and is transferred to the championship Class in all future .45 Cal competitions. Mr. T. Baker, of the British ship Carlisle, and Mr. L. R. Wheen tied for silver medals.

During the month of December the Club will hold the Shanghai all comers revolver and pistol championship competition, which calls for 50 shots to be fired at 20 yards. Standard American target. Any weapon over .22 caliber may be used.

The Standard Oil team started off like winners in their game with Andersen, Meyer scoring two goals in the first half against their opponents' one. In the second half, however, Andersen, Meyer came back with two goals, and prevented the Socony team from scoring, winning by 3 goals to 2.

NEW ZEALAND RUGGERS WIN FROM WELSHMEN

Big Crowd Sees "All Blacks" Defeat Wales By 19 Points To 0

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 29.—The International Rugby football match between Wales and New Zealand at Swansea today resulted in a victory for the New Zealand "All Blacks" by 19 points to nil.

The match was played in sunny weather, before 50,000 spectators. The ground was in good condition.

After nine minutes play Nicholls kicked a penalty goal for New Zealand. The "All Blacks" carried out several splendid attacks, following up with great speed and fackling thoroughly. Eventually M. Brownlie scored a try, Nicholls converting. The visitors' defence was fully capable of dealing with the occasional Welsh rushes. Near the interval Irvine scored an unconverted try. At half time the "All Blacks" were leading by 11 points to nil.

On the resumption the Welsh forwards attacked for some time but were met by a very sound defence. After very skilful handling Svenson scored another un- Then Irvine again got over and Nicholls converted. The New Zealanders kept up a great pace until the end.

Result. New Zealand, two goals, one penalty goal and two tries, (nineteen points) Wales, nil.

St. Ignace Wins From Medhurst

The Medhurst College football team journeyed to Siccawei on Saturday last and had a very enjoyable friendly game with St. Ignatius College. Play was fast and strenuous throughout, with the ball mostly in the visitors' territory during the first half, and at half time the score was one to nil in favor of St. Ignace.

In the second half the Medhurst players managed to break through on several occasions, and once scored. The final result was: St. Ignatius 2, Medhurst 1.

Father Savio was the referee.

AURORA FOOTBALL TEAM IS BEATEN BY CULTURE CLUB

Union Team Wins From Southern University In Other League Game

In the two games played in the U-China League here last Sunday, the Three Culture Club demited Aurora University and the tr ion team won from Southern University.

The game between the Three Cultures and Aurora was played on the University's grounds, and was a scrappy contest. Aurora won the toss, and kicked off, but the visitors soon got the ball and attacked the home team, with the wind helping them. After twenty minutes' play Chen, the Three Culture center forward, scored from a close range, when the fullback missed a hot pass from the right wing. Within a few minutes, however, Aurora equalised, through a fault of the goalie. Two minutes before lemon time, Sung scored from a free kick which the Aurora goalie misjudged and let through, making the score 2 to 1 at half-time.

On resumption, Aurora pressed hard on the visitors, but Sung and Yao were on the job and checked them effectively. Then the play became quite even. Both goals were visited, but nothing resulted. Then, during a melee in front of the University goal, Wong headed the leather into the net, putting his team in the lead at 3-1. Aurora fought desperately now, and scored with a terrific shot off the right wing. The game ended soon after, the Three Cultures winning by the odd goal in five.

Mr. S. C. Tsiang refereed.

UNIONS 5; SOUTHERN 1

In the other game of the All-China League, the Unions defeated Southern University by a score of 5-1. The Southern University team sprang a surprise by scoring first early in the first half and held the fast Unions scoreless in the first half, which ended 1-0 in favor of the students.

On resumption of play however, the Unions got together and piled up the score until it was 5-1. They were too fast for the University team, and demonstrated it conclusively throughout the second half.

Middle School Football

Nanyang University Middle School met Fuh Tan Middle School at Nanyang ground last Sunday, and played a tie game.

The first half saw the two teams playing a good game, but no goal resulted. Within a few minutes from the kick-off in the second half, however, Fuh Tan opened the score with a fine shot. Nanyang tried hard to equalise but nothing resulted until near the end, when Vee, their left wing, scored with a good shot. The game ended with the score 1-1.

Tung Chi Middle School defeated Nanyang Middle School last Sunday in a close game by the score of 2-1. Tung Chi opened the scoring and soon added a second goal. Nanyang scored one at forty-one minutes' play, a minute after the first half should have closed, but this was not allowed, taking place owing to the fact that the referee did not know the regulation of the League playing only forty minutes each half instead of the full forty-five minutes; the half therefore ended 2-0.

Nanyang scored in the second half, and Tung Chi won the game by 2-1.

CHAMPIONS' RACE AT TSINGTAO WON BY "HEADLIGHT"

Chang, Crack Chinese Rider, Guides Pony To Victory In Record Time

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tsingtao, Nov. 24.—"Headlight" scintillated brilliantly in the Champions' race yesterday afternoon in the third and concluding day of the Autumn Meeting of the Tsingtao International Recreation Club, scoring a hollow victory, flashing home more than a length in front of Mr. Chun's "Settlement Day," the latter, in turn, being only a nose ahead of Union Stable's "Tai Shan."

Mr. Chang, crack Chinese jockey who had scored six wins in the two previous days, was astride the champion as was most fitting. Later on he scored a victory with "Lucky Star" so that in the three days he piloted eight winners to the wire, one of the most impressive features of the season.

In winning the champions' race, "Headlight" lowered the track record for the mile and a quarter, clipping a second and two-fifths off the old mark, and this despite the strong headwind blowing from the north.

Again weather conditions were much more appropriate for an afternoon at the fireside instead of the wind swept grand stand, but the greatest crowd of the meeting was out, although everyone had to keep in motion to keep the blood circulating.

An off day will be held on Sunday, which will mark the official lowering of the curtain on racing here in the current year.

TWO NEW RECORDS IN SECOND DAY'S RACING

Tsingtao, Nov. 25.—The second day of the autumn meeting of the Tsingtao Recreation Club brought out two record-breaking performances, the track-record for the mile and three-quarters being lowered by "Eisho," only to be broken again later by "Headlight."

"Eisho" cut down the fastest previous time, 4:12, by fifteen seconds. Several races later "Headlight," which looks to be one of the best ponies at the meeting, reduced "Eisho's" performance by one second.

Mr. Chang scored three successive and impressive victories astride "Bright Star," "Lau Shan" and "Headlight" and the Chinese mounts won the greatest number of races. However, the German, Japanese and Russian-owned horses were well up with two races to the credit of each.

Photos Sent Across Atlantic By Radio

(Reuter's Service)

London, November 30.—The marked progress in the science of telephotography was demonstrated by the success with which the first trans-Atlantic experiments in it were carried out today. Numerous topical photographs were sent by radio from London to New York, each taking only a few minutes. New York messages describe the photographs as quite recognisable. They will be reproduced in the newspapers tomorrow.

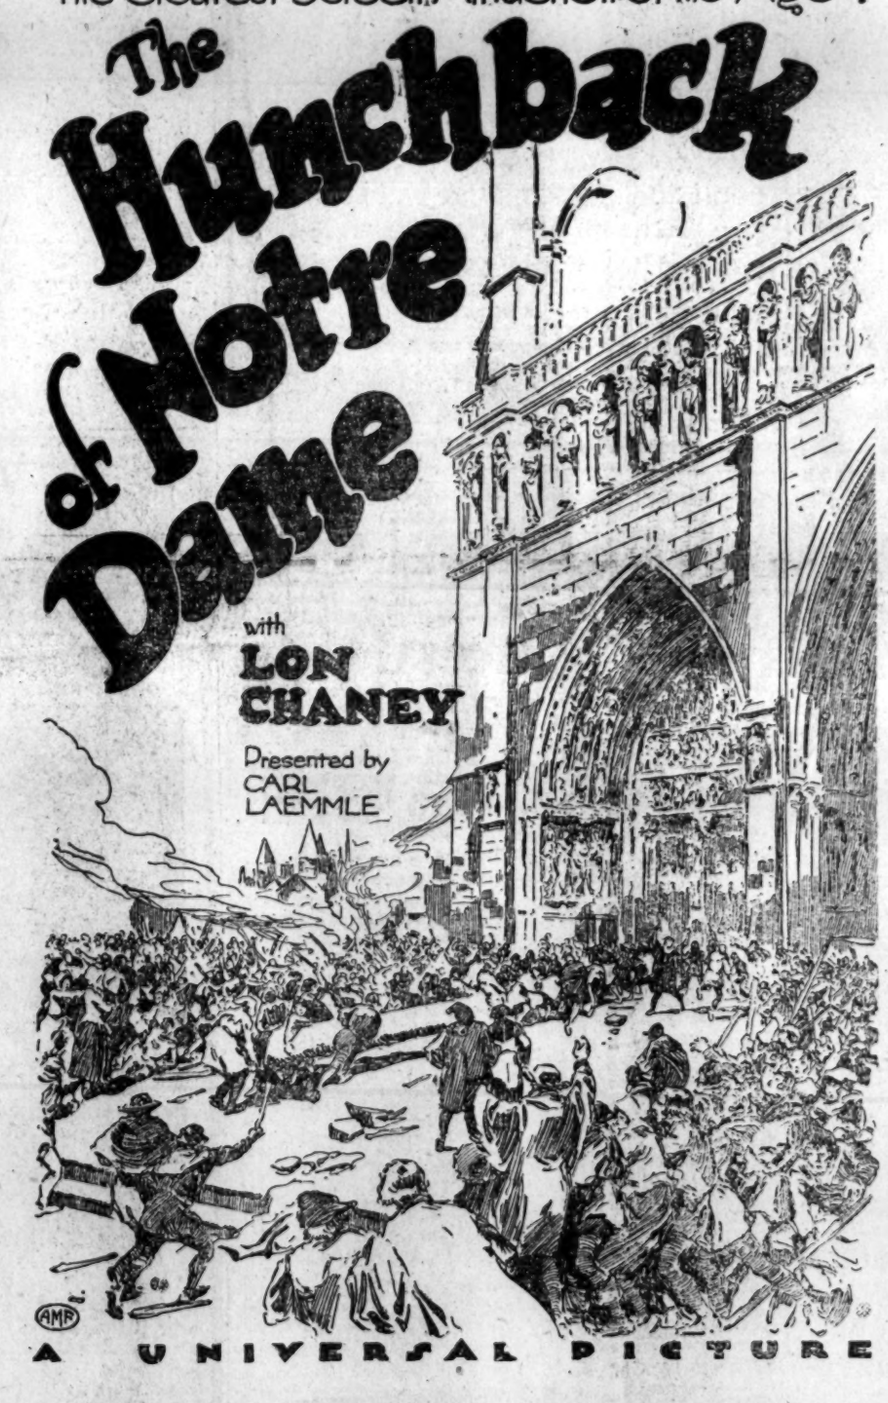
The Greatest Screen Attraction of the Age!



A Picture For All Time!

"None who see this picture will soon forget it, for it is as beautiful and as immense as the great edifice itself. The gripping intensity of its dramatic action, surging with sensational incidents in rapid succession—all amid stupendous scenic splendor—will hold any audience spellbound. In short, Carl Laemmle has done a great epic, for "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" is one of the outstanding screen dramas of all time,—an unforgetable picture."

P.S.-The above brief description of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" was not written by us. It is made up of phrases culled from the published criticisms of the leading newspapers.

You will find yourself perfectly in accord with their views,—in fact, in all probabilities, you will say that their praise, glowing though it may be, fails to do justice to

THE WORLD'S GREATEST LOVE DRAMA

Produced with contempt for cost, directed with surprising fidelity to the grimness of realities and enacted by seasoned players, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" is a massive achievement in cinema craftsmanship.

Feng Appeals To Chinese In United States For Aid

Dad Elliott Carries Message To Students In America

Mr. A. J. Elliott, Y.M.C.A. man, visiting in China on a mission from the students of America to the students of China and the far east, was given a letter to the Chinese students of America by General Feng Yu-hsiang, the Christian general, at Peking two weeks ago.

The letter, written in Chinese, follows:

"To the Chinese students in America: The Chinese Republic will no longer be a republic so as I hope that you patriotic young men will aid in saving our country by your sincerity, honesty, industrious work and self-sacrifice. As Mr. Elliott is returning to the United States I take this opportunity of giving him this message to you.

Alliance Of Japan, Soviet And China Is Forecast In London

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 30.—The Observer anticipates that the recent events in China mark the beginning of important developments not only in China, owing to the probability that the new form of government will secure the acquiescence of the majority of provinces, but particularly in international relationships. It says that many things are at present less probable and less natural than a concerted endeavour by China, Russia and Japan to remove their differences. The paper expresses the opinion that a Far Eastern entente is the most likely of reactions to the trend of international policy since the war.

The Journal admits that China may disappoint expectations, as she has done before, but the apparent significance of the means chosen to restore the security and stability of the country should not be missed in Washington and in London.

Professor Johnson Will Give Lecture At St. John's Today

Dr. Allen Johnson, professor of American History in Yale University, who arrived from Tientsin Saturday and is the guest of Dr F. Hawks Pott, at St. John's University, will give three lectures this week, in the University auditorium, to which the public is invited.

Dr. Johnson's program has just been announced. On Tuesday, December 2nd, at 6 p.m., he will speak on "Thomas Jefferson, Revolutionary;" on Thursday, Dec. 4, at the same hour, he will talk on "Abraham Lincoln, Emancipator;" and for his final lecture on Friday, Dec. 5, he has chosen one of our modern historical characters, "Woodrow Wilson, the peacemaker."

All who are interested in history should not fail to take advantage of hearing an authority on history and historical characters speak on these famous men.

'Red' Besiegers Are Overcome By Canton Merchant Volunteers

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Nov. 24.—The siege of Longsum City in Namhoi, near Canton, by the Kuomintang forces under General Li Fook-lam has been raised. The Volunteers from other towns are reported to have assisted the citizens to overcome the attacking forces. The "Reds" are stated to have lost 18 killed and the Volunteers about the same number. The Volunteers are reported to have captured about eighty rifles.

The "Red" General Headquarters in Canton is said to be asking for $550,980 monthly for the proposed Northern Expedition. The Salt Commission has been ordered to pay about half of this sum, and other contributions are demanded from the Kwangtung Yueh-Han Railway, the Opium Sales Bureau and the Provincial Bureau of Finance.

Farmers, Women Denied Ballot In Canton Elections

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Nov. 24.—The election of the new mayor of Canton will take place on November 27 or 28. The electoral college will consist of twelve electors, four of whom will come from the three 'estates' of merchants, students and laborers.

The total number of those entitled to vote in these three estates is only about 63,000 out of Canton's total population of 1,300,000, so less than five percent of the people will have a voice in the election.

Farmers in the suburbs are protesting against their disfranchisement and so are the women who had a vote in the municipal elections three years ago.

Thirty thousand, or more, slogans were submitted to the Nestle Milk Company in their $500 Slogan contest, indicating that "sloganeering" has been a popular indoor sport in Shanghai recently. Everything possible is being done to select the prize winners as soon as possible.

It will be recalled that the slogans called for were to describe the merits of the Nestle, Peter, Cailler, Kohler lines of fine Swiss Chocolates.

Dr. White Hurls Shell In Ranks Of Modernists

Presbyterian Missionary, Now In America, Makes Violent Attack In Address At Convention

The Rev. Hugh W. White of the American Presbyterian Mission at Yencheng, Kiangsu Province, a few miles north of Shanghai, has apparently thrown a sizzling bomb-shell into the ranks of the so-called Modernists in China missionary circles if we are to judge from an address which he delivered before the World's Fundamentalist Convention in Minneapolis, Minn., a few weeks ago and now being circulated in China. Dr. White is in America on leave.

Dr. White starts out by saying that until three years ago the China missionary body slept serenely unconscious of any need for a Fundamentalist movement, but then something happened "on the mountain top at Kuling the week in which July and August kiss," and now—

"Since we in China made our bolt for freedom, the shackles which we are shaking off have become evident. Most of the interdenominational missionary movements of China are conducted by boards and committees located in Shanghai, and boards of educational institutions, even though not located there, somehow seem to hold on to Shanghai's coat tails. A glance at the personnel of these boards and committees shows certain names on most of them. If not elected, they squeeze in by the ex-officio route, or maybe have a dummy to represent them. The striking thing about these interlocking directorates is that the interlockers are, as a rule, either modernists or evangelicals willing to play their tunes.

THE CHINESE RECORDER

"It is in this way that, to the amazement of the general missionary body our old Chinese Recorder, the home paper, as it were, of all the missionaries, has become filled with articles breathing not Christianity, but a Buddhisto-Confuciano-Christiano-socialistico-desire-for-don't-know-what movement. One sainted lady would not allow it in her house, and when she died, the mission to which she belonged would not allow her obituary to appear in it."

And the attack on the editorial policy and personnel of the Chinese Recorder does not end the story. The Shanghai American School, a million dollar enterprise for the education of American children in Shanghai also comes in for special attention. Says Dr. White:

"To us, fathers and mothers, most distressing of all is the evident scheming after our boys and girls, who will many of them be the future missionaries. The foreign mission boards have thoughtfully provided schools for these children. Of these the largest is the Shanghai American School. In the capital funds of this institution the Y.M.C.A. has invested $20,000; the Northern Baptists, $25,000; the Northern Presbyterians, $25,000; Northern Methodists, $25,000; the Southern Methodists, $20,000; the Southern Presbyterians, $15,000; The Reformed Church, $5,000; a total of $135,000 gold. And these boards are each furnishing several thousand dollars annually for the upkeep. When the North Kiangsu Mission requested that of the membership of the board a majority should be, not conservatives, but professing Christians, it was refused."

ACTION IS URGED

Dr. White's remarks which occupy some seven pages of closely typed manuscript does not overlook anything in his attack on the Modernists and in his conclusion calls for the following action.

"1. Let a special committee be appointed to study out the best methods of organising and governing the work, with power to act. On this step we should be absolutely sure of God's guidance.

"2. Let a suitable man, or a workable committee in a suitable locality be appointed to receive funds, and disburse them according to instructions.

"3. Then let information go forth through sympathetic newspapers and in other ways.

"Will not all here put this on your prayer lists and bring down fire on God's altar?"

Slayers And Robbers Trapped In Police Net

gunman by his right arm, forcing the pistol upwards. As he did so, the man fired four shots, none of which took effect. With the assistance of the other constables, the suspect was disarmed and taken to the Hongkew Police Station. His pistol was of Belgian manufacture, and he had 32 rounds of .32 calibre ammunition.

Under questioning by the police, the man said that he was a former soldier. He confessed to having participated in the holdup of a silk shop at 147 Fokien Road on October 23, when silk and money totalling $550 in value was stolen, and also to a lone raid on a watch shop at 472 Nanking Road on November 26, when a gold watch and chain worth more than $200 was taken. When arrested, the man was wearing a gown made of the stolen silk. He also had in his possession the stolen watch and chain.

MURDERERS ARRESTED

At the time of his arrest, he said, he was on his way to a teashop on Yuenfong Road, where he was to meet other members of his gang who were coming in from Woosung to plan another armed robbery. Police raided the teashop but were unable to find any of the other robbers. The one man arrested was arraigned in the Mixed Court yesterday on charges of armed robbery and attempted murder of the police constable. A remand was granted at the request of the police in order to permit them to make further investigations.

A Chinese named Shee Ah-fong was arrested in connection with the attempted murder of another Chinese, the attack, the police believe, being the result of a dispute among rival gangs. The victim is still in hospital. A confession has been obtained from the man now under arrest.

Another alleged murderer was taken into custody at 1 o'clock yesterday morning on Yochow Road. He is charged with killing a Chinese at the Ching Wei Cotton Mill, 31 Yochow Road, on November 12.

In the arrest of four men on Saturday and Sunday, police believe they have cleared up an armed robbery at 1004 Kungping Road on November 26 and another at 1060 Broadway on the following day. Two of the suspects were taken into custody in Yuenfong Road on Saturday. Information obtained from them led to the arrest of the other two men in the Sincere Company's store on Sunday. The four men in custody are said to comprise the entire gang which took part in the two robberies.

SENSATIONAL BATTLE

The sensational shooting affray in the French Concession and the Municipal Settlement on Saturday evening at 7:15 o'clock came as the result of an armed robber raid on a cigarette and exchange shop at 53-5 Rue Soeur Alger, French Concession.

The holdup was committed by three men, each of them armed with a pistol. As the robbers left the shop, police of the French Concession were attracted to the scene by the outcry raised by the shop assistants. They gave chase to the robbers, who separated, and, drawing pistols, began shooting at the police. In the exchange of shots, two pedestrians, a tram conductor and an Annamite policeman were wounded. One of the pedestrians was killed instantly.

One of the three robbers sought to make good his escape by entering the Settlement at Lungmen Road. French police and Settlement police joined in chasing him as he ran down Taku Road into Wung Jau Li Alleyway off Thibet Road, where he was finally captured and disarmed by Sikh Police Constable 202 with the assistance of Sikh Police Constable 542. In the chase, the constables fired several shots at the robber none of which, however, took effect. The man had in his possession an automatic pistol, with one round of ammunition left in the magazine. He was turned over to the French police.

WOUNDED SIKH DIES

Another fatality was charged up to the work of armed robbers yesterday when Sikh Police Constable 360, who was shot through the neck last Friday night in an encounter with armed robbers in the Gordon Road district, died at the General Hospital.

Two Chinese who had in their possession two automatic pistols, twelve roads of pistol ammunition, three rounds of 2.86 rifle ammunition and three empty rifle shells, were taken into custody Sunday in a wine shop at 513 Foochow Road. The men claimed to be members of a Volunteer Company at St. Francis Xavier Church, Tungkadoo, which is said to have been organised by the Roman Catholic Mission. When arrested, they were under the influence of intoxicants. Each was charged with unlawful possession of arms.

Another Chinese was arrested late Saturday on North Thibet Road while in possession of a fully loaded pistol and 150 rounds of ammunition. He was formerly a member of the Settlement Police Force. He, too, was charged with unlawful possession of arms.

London, Nov. 30.—The general Egyptian situation is officially described as easier and satisfactory. The messages up to the present do not indicate any ostensible cause for the mutiny. It is suspected that it was the work of an Egyptian agent-Provocateur from Cairo.

The first batch of Egyptian troops from the Sudan arrived in Cairo today. The last Egyptian soldiers left the Sudan yesterday.

Malta, Nov. 29.—The First Gordon Highlanders which were due to proceed to India have been diverted to Egypt, to where they will depart on Tuesday by the aircraft carrier Eagle.

(Reuter's Service)

Cairo, Nov. 30.—No further incident has been reported from Khartum. The two British officers killed in the mutiny were Captain Maclaren (? Maclean) of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders and Captain Tunks of the Leicestershire Regiment.

It is understood that Zaghlul Pasha has obtained a passport for Europe. He will probably take a cure at a French or Italian health resort.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 29.—It appears from messages from Cairo that the platoon which encountered the mutineers on the evening of November 27 consisted of Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders. The mutineers were given every opportunity to surrender. They replied to the British fire with rifles and machine-guns, and then withdrew under cover of darkness.

The main body of the rebels was located in the building of the hospital compound. On the morning of November 28 they fired on the approaching troops, hence it was necessary to demolish the building with gun-fire. One officer and 14 men in the building are reported to have been killed. The survivors surrendered or are being collected by the police.

The British army medical officer killed in the hospital was Major Carlyle.

The Safe Rational Remedy for Coughs, Colds & Chills.

BEWARE DOSING WITH COUGH-MIXTURES CONTAINING HABIT-FORMING DRUGS.

THE speedy, direct and scientific treatment for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, etc., is to breathe the volatile Peps medicine straight into your lungs. This method is directly opposed to the old practice of dosing with drug-laden mixtures, which act on the stomach, liver and heart, but on the lungs last and least of all.

As Peps tablets dissolve in the mouth, they give off the balsamic lung-healing fumes of the pine forest. This breatheable Peps medicine imparts strength to weakened tissues, it opens-up the clogged air-tubes, and fills the throat, bronchials and lungs to their utmost limits with a rare, soothing, purifying and health-giving influence.

The sensation of chest comfort and breathing-ease produced by Peps, is immediate evidence of their beneficial effect. All soreness, inflammation and irritation of the delicate lining membrane is quickly removed by Peps, stringy phlegm is loosened and expelled, and noxious disease-germs infesting the throat and breathing-tubes are found out and destroyed.

Sufferers from obstinate coughs, influenza colds, chills, wheeziness and tightness of chest, sore throat, laryngitis, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other affections of the breathing organs, will find in these breatheable Peps tablets, the ideal and long-sought remedy. They are as valuable for removing the distressing night coughs and chest weaknesses of children as they are a source of strength and comfort to the aged.

Unlike risky cough-cures Peps are guaranteed free from opium, chloral and all other habit-forming drugs.

PEPS are obtainable in sealed glass bottles of medicine dealers everywhere direct from agents Messrs. Wakefield Co. China Ltd., Szechuen Rd. Shanghai

How The Mails Come And Go Between China And Foreign Countries

Sundry Details Of Public Interest In Connection With The Removal Of The C. P. O. Head Office

By Geo. W. Missemer

Without a hitch, without a mail being missed, without the slightest derangement of the usual daily routine of receiving letters, newspapers and parcels from all parts of this country and from foreign countries, and despatching them thence, with mails being despatching locally to sub-offices and being received from them, with letter carriers making their usual rounds, the Chinese Post Office transferred the seat of its operations from the old building at the corner of Peking and Szechuen Roads to the large, modern, new building at the corner of Szechuen and North Soochow Roads, over Sunday night.

The entire demonstration was yet another example of which Shanghai has seen numerous examples in recent years of what can be accomplished by a large, well trained Chinese staff, under intelligent, and let it be said also sympathetic, foreign supervision.

HOW THE MAILS COME

Opportunity was taken of a visit to the new premises to make inquiries as to the inner workings of the post office, and the various department heads placed every facility at their disposal for this purpose. The average resident who receives or sends his letter, or his newspaper, or his parcel, probably gives little thought to the great organisation that carries his property, with a minimum of delay or error that is truly marvelous—and this article makes no pretense to more than skimming the surface.

Let us begin with the letter that lies on our desk, and work backwards. We see that it comes from London. Which way did it come from there? By one of four routes. If it was marked "via Siberia" it came that way, and both letters and newspapers (but not parcels) are more and more coming by that route. The service in some respects is not yet equal to what it was before the great European war, but in some respects it is better. Up to 1914 only letter mail could go via Siberia. Now both letters and newspapers go in both directions at the Union rates. When the trains run normally via Siberia, the longest that it takes mail to go via Siberia between London and here is twenty-three days, but if advantage is taken of the latest posting to catch the weekly despatch, the time is cut down to eighteen days, which, of course, compares very poorly with the time of thirteen-and-a-half days, which was the rule up to the time of the European war, but is still much more rapid than any of the other routes.

SLOWER THAN BEFORE THE WAR

Mails via Suez come and go by nearly all the steamship lines, although the French liner coming in brings very little English mail. The bulk of the English mail coming in via Suez comes on the P. and O. steamers, it being sent by rail to Marseilles, catching the boat there. Next in point of service comes the Blue Funnel, and then the Glen and a few other lines. The service via Suez has not yet either reached the speed of pre-war days. Before the war, the mails were transhipped at Port Said and caught a rapid steamer to (or from) Brindisi, in Italy and thence were rushed across by rail. The time taken for a letter by the P. & O. boats between here and London is from thirty to thirty-five days, several days more than was required before the war.

Coming across the Pacific, the mails from London come both through Canada and through America. The American despatches are more frequent, but as regards English mail, the Canadian and United States services share honors fairly equally between them as to quantity.

LOCAL HANDLING

But the question of how the letter got to our desk has not yet been completely answered. When the steamer arrives here bringing the mail from abroad by any of the four routes, it, or the tender from it, is met by a post office van, in response to previous advices from the agent of the steamship company. All mails received go to the head office. They are dumped from the vans to the escalator and are received on the floor above, where they are divided up according to their destinations, first by larger districts, and then subdivided into smaller ones.

For instance, our letter from London will doubtless already be in a bag made up for Shanghai direct in London and will be sent out within about an hour and a half of its receipt direct from the head office by carrier, that is, if our address is in the district bounded by the Whangpoo on the east and Shanse Road on the west and between the French concession on the south and Haining, Yalu and Hongkew creek on the north. Otherwise the letter is put into the lot for any one of the dozen odd substations, and from there goes through the sorting process once more and is handed to the appropriate carrier.

If the letter or newspaper (letters getting preference) is for an outport, it naturally falls in the same category as mail originating here and is handled as is domestic mail, after it has arrived from abroad.

Mails from Germany at present practically all come via Siberia. The local office is not quite sure whether they come that way as a matter of course, or whether they have to be specially marked, but the Germans at any rate seem to keep very much in touch with the latest news on mail routes and practically all their mail going and coming is carried by that route. Despite the fact, however, that all that is required to secure transit via Siberia for both letters and mail is to mark them "via Siberia," still an average of about 500 bags a month come by the P. & O. steamers via Suez, an average of two sailings a month. French mails also come very seldom via Siberia.

MAILS OUT BY FIRST STEAMER

Mails going out are handled, naturally, just the opposite of those coming in. The usual rule is to send out the mail by the first available opportunity regardless of when it will arrive at its final destination. For instance, suppose a letter is addressed to New York. Tomorrow there may be a mail via San Francisco which will arrive later at its destination than a mail leaving Shanghai two days later but going via Seattle. The post office here has no interest in the matter except to see that its premises are cleared of mail matter at the earliest possible opportunity. The post office arrangements are just the same as regards payment by all routes. However, all instructions are carefully observed, when they are written on the letter in a clear and legible manner.

No parcels can be sent via Siberia nor from here to London via America or via Canada. Parcels from London are however, received via Canada. The reason for this difference is that China has no parcel account with either Canada or the United States, and neither of them accept responsibility for the loss of parcels. As a result, there is no postal insurance for parcels from here to the United States, although by the agreement between China and the United States, parcels up to the full domestic limit of fifty pounds are sent to America at the eighth zone parcel rate of twelve gold cents a pound, or its equivalent of double that in Mex.

MAIL FOR SOUTH AMERICA

Letter mail for South America is sent via America. Parcels, unfortunately, cannot be sent by the American route to South American points, owing to the fact that China has no parcel account with America. Parcels are therefore sent by the much longer route via Suez, a matter which has been the subject of complaint by persons having occasion to send parcels in that direction. In due course it is probable that parcel arrangements between China and America will be put on a better basis, and then South American parcels will go by the same quick route that the letters do.

As a mere detail, it may be mentioned that each country in the Postal Union pays the expenses of its own forwardings. Short postage collected is kept by the country collecting it.

Trying To Stop Fall In Value Of Yen In Japan

Minister Of Finance, Governor Of Bank Of Japan And President Of Specie Bank Confer

Tokio, Nov. 24.—To prevent the Yen falling to $35 a hundred and ultimately to bring the Yen-Dollar exchange back to par, the Japanese Cabinet has decided to stabilize the yen at its present level by releasing, if necessary, a percentage of the gold specie reserve in the Bank of Japan or in its deposits abroad, it was announced at the Foreign Office yesterday.

The new plan of the Government, which was first intimated in a speech by Finance Minister Hamaguchi Saturday, to put the yen back to its former level of 48, by lifting the embargo on the exportation of gold, as well as by utilizing the gold reserve, will not become effective for some time, although no expense will be spared by the Government in the present exigency to prevent the further collapse of the yen's value.

At a conference between the Minister of Finance, the Governor of the Bank of Japan, the President of the Yokohama Specie Bank, and officials of the Finance Department, the new plan was adopted.

TO SETTLE GOVERNMENT ACCOUNTS

The specie holdings of Japan at the end of October totaled Y1,530,000,000, of which Y350,000,000 is held in foreign countries, New York holding much of it. It is thought the Government has determined to sell oversea specie held either by the Government or Bank of Japan at the request of trading merchants in settlement of accounts resulting from the importation of cotton and other commodities, a larger amount of oversea specie is necessary for Japan to retain its credit internationally and under the circumstances it is impossible for the Government authorities to sell its specie indiscriminately at the request of private merchants. Recognizing this, the Government has decided to forward specie held at home to foreign cities where the settlement of trade accounts may require it. As long as the embargo on gold is operative the forwarding of domestic specie by private merchants is prohibited. Therefore, specie to be forwarded to foreign countries will be limited to the settlement of accounts of the Government such as the fund for purchasing Navy materials, expenses necessary for the Government offices abroad, including consulates, legations and embassies, and payment of interest for Japan's foreign loans.

BAN ON GOLD EXPORT TO REMAIN

There is no foretelling how much specie may be sold or forwarded. Its ultimate object is the stabilisation of the exchange rate. Government authorities are firmly convinced that this declaration on the exchange rate policy will go a long way to retain the $38 level. It is generally thought that the Government will not forward a large amount of specie to America because of the large silk shipments and the large specie holdings already there. The proposed forwarding of specie abroad will take place during the first half of next year, when the country must lay in a stock of imported articles.

Mr. S. Hayami, parliamentary vice-minister for finance advanced the following opinion regarding the much discussed lifting of gold embargo:

"It had been our hope that the gold embargo should be removed and thereby restore Japan's trade to its former prosperity. Opinions are advanced by leading financiers, scholars and businessmen recommending the advisability of lifting the gold embargo. The Government agrees with their opinions, because it supports the theory in principle. But it is a question whether or not the lifting shall be carried out immediately. In my own opinion, the immediate removal of the ban is impossible. The abrupt removal will cause a precipitous change. When our economy is restored to such a condition that no serious results will follow the removal of gold embargo, the Government will carry it out," concluded Mr. Hayami.

The steps which led to the action of the Government, since the days of the war, and the dangers which must be avoided if the plan is to succeed, were told by Mr. Kuchida, executive of the Mitsubishi Bank, to a representative of the Japan Advertiser yesterday.

MAY NOT SINK TOO LOW

"With the decline which followed shortly after the war," said Mr. Kuchida, several administrations sent large shipments of gold specie to New York to maintain the level of the yen at 48 cents to the dollar; later this practise was stopped abruptly, with the result that the yen fell to 42. At the time of the earthquake, when industrial Japan was greatly disrupted, it was natural that the yen should decline even more.

"These deposits in America wil be the first to be released and should prove sufficient to stabilize the yen at its present value. Then it may be necessary to draw upon domestic reserve of specie. The percentage of specie may sink as low as 30 percent, according to the economists, without any danger. This is the case in America. But in the United States, the exports always exceed the imports, and, since the war, the interest on the foreign debt exceeds the outlay for external payments, so that there is a constant influx of gold into the country. This is not the case in Japan, and before we may allow the gold specie to sink, we must have trade prospects, at least, that would insure a heavy balance of trade in our favor.

"Another side to the situation is this: Japan's exchange, and the par of the yen, have always been regulated by the value of the pound. We could afford to let the yen drop as long as the pound sterling was low. But now the pound is within 5 percent of its normal status, and if it rises any higher, the yen would be even lower in its standing in the financial marts of the world. That is one reason the Japanese Government has been forced to take extreme measures to get the yen back to its former level."

Mr. Kuchida also declared that lifting the embargo on gold would have to be by a gradual process. When asked if the Government's order to put the intrinsic value of jeweler's gold on a parity with the exchange rate was a preliminary measure to lifting the embargo, Mr. Kuchida said that it might well be, but that it could scarcely presage a sudden lifting of the ban.

South Manchuria Sugar Refinery, Mukden

The Tiehling branch of the South Manchuria Sugar Refining Factory, Mukden, has started to manufacture white sugar from new beets. The Liao River not yet having been frozen over, the outputs about Tachingtuitsu could not be carted in, but as soon as the river gets frozen over perfectly, the new crops in the surrounding country will arrive. At stations between Mukden and Tiehling, a large quantity of beets is being sent off by train, but in many cases, beets are found frozen, and mostly developed imperfectly partly from short rain and from a kind of disease, that afflicted them. The first crop forecast was placed at about 30,000,000 catties, the actual harvests showing, however, a decrease by about 30 percent to some 20,000,000 catties.

In all events, the factory will be kept busy day and night a few months hence, employing between 600 and 700 hands.

Business Depression In Japan Laid To Abnormally High Costs

Tokio, Nov. 22.—Blame for the business depression in Japan is placed on the abnormally high prices in Japan at the present time. The price of commodities is higher on an average of 120 percent than before the World War, says an article appearing in yesterday morning's issue of the Jiji.

It is pointed out that during and following the World War prices began to go up everywhere. As late as March, 1920 the tendency was toward higher prices, it is remarked, and at that time London is termed the highest priced city in the world, with Tokio second and New York third.

The decline of prices then is traced, and it is pointed out that while there has been a financial readjustment almost everywhere else in the world, Tokio today is the highest priced city in the world, with London next and then New York. While the Capital is on a level of prices some 120 percent above those before the war, it is stated that London prices have receded to 70 percent over pre-war prices, while in New York the prices are about 50 percent higher than 10 years ago.

Labor wage scales also are discussed, and it is remarked that while there has been a readjustment in this line also, and a "return to normalcy" elsewhere in the world, labor in Japan particularly in Tokio, has refused to accept reductions in pay.

It is pointed out in this connection that the earthquake a year ago tended to increase labor wage scales in the Capital and, as a result, elsewhere.

So, it is declared, it is only natural that Japan's imports have exceeded the country's exports in recent years. Commodities go where prices are high. During the war Japan exported, the article declares, Y1,400,000,000 worth of materials in excess of her imports.

That was an unparalleled period of prosperity. But as soon as the West stopped fighting and began producing, Japan was a rich and good market and began buying more than ever before. An excess of imports, it is remarked, resulted. This has kept up ever since.

The result is that the gold saved here during the war has been spent and Japan, thanks to the manner in which the savings have been spent abroad, and also to the earthquake, which taxed the resources of the country tremendously as well as the productivity, is deeply in debt. It is stated that the interest on foreign loans alone now totals approximately Y100,000,000 annually.

America And Britain Have Kept Faith

SENSIBLE Britons and Americans, both in this region of the world and in the West, will not attach any more importance than does Sir Esme Howard, the British Ambassador at Washington, to the charges that Britain is not carrying out the terms of the Washington Treaty for the Limitation of Naval Armaments. Neither the United States, France nor Italy has made any protest to London in this connection, so it has been left to private citizens to make these "alarming disclosures." Sir Esme Howard, in his speech at Washington to which reference is made in one of the telegrams published today, was evidently referring to Mr. Shearer's recent unsuccessful application for an injunction against the destruction of the dreadnought Washington, on the grounds that Britain was not living up to the Washington agrement.

The allegation that Britain is proving false to the commitments which she undertook at the Washington Conference is not seriously considered for the reason that it is historically accurate to say that Britain and the United States were the two countries that secured the least material gains from the Washington Conference, just as China was the greatest gainer. With Great Britain, so far as her Navy is concerned, it is not a question of maintaining her sea forces for purposes of aggression and imperialistic adventures but rather of preserving a Navy to a point adequate only for defense. This was the principle behind the Washington deliberations, or in other words the powers tried to establish their fleets on a basis of protection of their territories rather than on a basis of unrestricted competition which has been the principle heretofore.

Today, as ever, British security, the country's livelihood and the future of the race at home and throughout the world rest, under Providence, upon the Fleet. They have been the foundation of Great Britain's power and on them depends the guardianship of her shipping and her trade routes, the assured provision of the food supplies which she does not or cannot produce herself, and without which her people must perish, and the safety of her communications with the dominions and colonies.

The interests of America also are no different from those of Great Britain in this respect. President Coolidge, in indorsing plans for the observance of Navy Day recently, wisely took the ground that it is a navy as a defender of peace, rather than as a force for war, which he applauds. The position is a perfectly logical one for a Republican President, for it was the Party of which he is the head that carried to a successful culmination the Washington Conference for the limitation of naval armaments. That the fullest good has not yet followed that Conference is undeniable. There are not lacking evidence of the purposes of certain quarters to evade its spirit, if not its letter. But even at that, it has put an abrupt check to the rivalry in the construction of capital ships and has saved the taxpayers of at least three great nations heavy sums that otherwise would have been frittered away on the completion of ships under construction. Although President Coolidge refers with justifiable pride to what was accomplished at Washington under his predecessor, he is not blind to the fact that only a beginning has been made in tying the hands of naval and military extremists. But this starting-point may lead to something larger in the future. In the meantime, the necessity remains for Britain, like the United States, at all times to maintain a navy adequate to national defense in the moment of highest emergency, and if any breach occurs of the Washington Conference treaty terms, it is not likely to come from Britain or America. If others are true to their international obligations with the same scrupulousness and fidelity to solemn pledges shown by these two countries, there will no longer be any need for further conferences on limitation of armaments. Both the United States and Britain have kept faith with the world, and anyone who suggests otherwise is rendering a disservice to the cause of international amity.

Comrade Trotsky's Red Army

THERE recently has been considerable reference in the news regarding the Red Army of Soviet Russia which is controlled by Trotsky, and regarding his leadership of which a serious conflict is now supposed to be raging inside the Soviet political machine which dominates Russia. According to Mr. Isaac Marcosson who is now contributing a remarkably interesting series of articles on Russia to the Saturday Evening Post, the present strength of the Red army is 562,967 men actually under arms, a reduction according to Trotsky from 5,000,000 men which constituted the peak when the white forces were trying to crush communism. To quote further from Mr. Marcosson's article:

"Despite the utopia which is supposed to prevail in Soviet Russia military service is compulsory for all men between the ages of twenty and forty. The duration of service is eighteen months in the infantry, two years in the cavalry, three in aviation and four in the navy. Though the branch of service is not entirely optional, the recruit is allowed to choose his particular wing if he shows leaning toward it. Even the children get a taste of what is ahead of them, because every boy during his sixteenth year must spend several periods in the military barracks. There are various cadet schools. One day in Moscow I saw a seven-year-old youngster in the uniform of a red private. He even carried a toy gun. In this respect Russia emulates the imperial Germany of other days.

"That Russia is not taking any chances on revolution is shown by the discrimination against the sons of the bourgeoisie. Only the offspring of the proletariat are included in the actual fighting forces. The sons of the bourgeoisie are conscripted for service in labor battalions and some branches of the commissary and transport, but in no sections where arms are carried. The inconsistency here is that thousands of old czarist officers have been incorporated into the army. Most of them entered because it was the only guaranty of physical safety and a meal ticket.

"When Trotsky made the point that there were only 562,967 men actually under arms in the red army he disclosed only part of the real red fighting strength. In addition to the troops under his command there are three other separate and distinct military units in Soviet Russia with which he has no personal connection. Each has its particular and sometimes sinister work to perform. Each operates independently of the other, although all could be mobilised under a common leadership if the emergency arose. This allocation of forces strikingly illustrates the obvious lack of unity which exists among the various political factions. It means that each has its own private army.

"First and foremost among these subsidiary armies is the host that interprets the will of the dread G. P. U., which are the first letters of the Russian words meaning Secret Political Police. It is variously estimated to include from 100,000 to 150,000 men, and operates all over Russia. It embraces infantry, artillery, cavalry, with tank and aeroplane sections. It is a complete army save for the engineering wing.

"In a remote way it resembles the famous Foreign Legion of Algeria in that it recruits some of its members from various nationalities. In it you find Letts, Armenians, Georgians, Tartars and Chinese. There is a definite reason. These foreigners carry out the most cruel assignments. The Czar's guard, before his atrocious murder, was composed entirely of Letts. Had they been Russians they might have succumbed to that spirit of nationalism which is instinct to every Russian regardless of his political affiliation, and helped him to escape. Hence the value of having aliens to impose brutalities upon Russians.

"This G. P. U. army therefore does what we would call the dirty work of Russia. That part of it which operates in mufti—and it comprises no inconsiderable portion—constitutes the sleuths who worm their way into people's confidence and insinuatingly force some kind of unconscious betrayal. The next thing the victim knows a detail of armed G. P. U. guards are outside his door ready to take him off to a G. P. U. prison. All the prisons are under the amiable stewardship of the G. P. U.

"The third military wing is the so-called Kremlin Guard, which is a body of carefuly selected Communists. Altogether they do not number more than 5,000. They are the keepers of the Kremlin. It is their job to see that undesirables are kept out of this Soviet holy of holies, and that the persons of high government officials, many of whom reside in the Kremlin, are safeguarded.

"The fourth unit is peculiarly characteristic of the mystery which pervades official Russia. Like the Kremlin Guard, it is a body of hand-picked Communists. It differs, however, in the fact that the layman does not know the identity of the members. Ordinarily they do not wear uniforms and are kept in reserve for vital emergency. In case of an incipient counter-revolution, they would be the first to be hurled into the breach. They provide what might will be designated the shock troops of communism.

"All together, these four organisations, with the frontier police, aggregate a total of more than 800,000 men. Then, too, there is the vast number of Russians who served in the civil war against the whites and the Allies, or in the World War, when imperial Russia mobilised 9,000,000 men."

Other Views Than Ours On The War In China

ON THE SHANGHAI FRONT

(Denver, Colorado, News)

Chinamen are killing each other on the Shanghai front. It is a long way off, and there are a great many Chinamen, so, probably, we think it matters little to us or to the world.

It is difficult to get greatly interested in whether Shanghai is governed as part of Kiangsu or as part of Chekiang.

But we have been reading about these Chinese armies using airplanes, machine guns, high explosive shells and other more or less modern devices for warfare. So far we have not noticed any reference to the use of gas, but presently they will be using it, no doubt. They are learning. So-called pacifist China is learning.

There are a great many Chinamen, we said, and the killing of a few thousand cannot make much difference—altho it reduces the number of potential customers for the exports of America and other industrial nations. But suppose a great many Chinamen, millions of them, should become expert in the use of modern weapons; suppose they should be drilled and equipped for war; suppose they should get the notion that heaven had called them to spread a Chinese "kultur" over the world; suppose they should abandon killing each other and take to killing their neighbors. There are a great many Chinamen, and their multitudinous numbers would become a matter of much concern under such circumstances. It might take a lot of white men to frustrate their plans.

Watching China practice war in civil conflict, it occurs to us that it will be well for the world to find a way of abolishing war before the Chinese become too expert.

It is when we think of this that the Shanghai front takes on a very real interest.

THE TAG DAY ISSUE—MR. TSAO'S LAST WORD

Editor, The China Press:

Sir:—I have read the letter from D. O. Tsu which appeared in the Sunday issue of your esteemed paper, stating to the effect that he is far from being satisfied with my explanation, respecting the contribution on Tag Day, which I made on Nov. 28 in your paper, and also the letter from H. K., alleging that Chinese school-boys are airing their views in your correspondence column and that their letters should be first submitted to the scrutiny of some competent person with knowledge of English; replying thereto I have to say:—

I thought when I wrote my previous letter that my explanation to D. O. Tsu was enough; and further spilling of my most noble ink would not be necessary. Indeed, your valuable space should be reserved to some worthy discussion other than these disputes which can be dispensed with. But as occasion now demands, I would pray you to insert this letter, which is my second and last letter relating to the issue.

The first point of argument advanced by the honorable D. O. Tsu is decidedly misleading. He said: "What had been suggested to the Association was only a suggestion and was never formally passed. . . . The Association should be congratulated for refusing to pass the suggestion." I must point out that a suggestion, unlike motion, requires no passing or putting into vote. In this connection D. O. Tsu reveals his ignorance of Parliamentary Law or Rules of Order; and this mistake is surely inexcusable, because Ignorantia facti excusat, ignorantia juris non excusat. Besides, I am fully informed by the representatives of our school—whose representatives have always occupied the chair of the Association ever since its existence—that this suggestion was made under the presumption that all conscientious students would observe it. And I presume all students are conscientious.

In the second argument of D. O. Tsu's letter, he states that my opinion of the Kiangsu and Chekiang war was a Chinese war and that Chinese alone are held answerable is wrong, and further ridicules me as living in the time of Closed Door Policy. Mr. Tsu, I deplore your statement. How you fail to see my point is beyond comprehension. I should honestly confess that the war was undeniably a Chinese war to its core. At the same time I should like to express that the spirit of non-intervention of the Powers is highly respected this time. If Monroe was living today, I am confident that he would hold the same, despite his time-honored doctrine.

Another point I must bring out for the perusal of the public, and which will also explain my contention. In law there are two kinds of obligations, namely: legal and moral. The members of a family owe to each other a legal obligation to provide food, clothes, shelter and other indispensable comfort of subsistence; whereas the outsiders only owe a moral obligation, which is not binding on them whatsoever. So our foreign friends may give or may not give—all at their own disposal. We cannot accuse them of being hostile or unfriendly when they refuse to do so.

Now, so much for the arguments—let me also relate an incident on Tag Day. The letter from Shanghai College has added a third episode, which sounds equally as disgustful to the foreigners as the former two. My story is entirely a different one. On Tag Day I also encountered a foreigner, whose vetement and visage bore the resemblance of a hunger-stricken Russian. This man came to me voluntarily, without being asked, and slipped into my cylinder two coppers, whereupon I was greatly impressed. There is still man under the sun, under the God we all adore, who himself being on the verge of starvation, cares the equal lot of others! In return I pinned a badge into his worn-out buttonhole as an emblem of his opportune hospitality. To this proletarian gentleman, to all those foreign friends who gave on that day, my hearty gratitude I most sincerely convey, and also on behalf of those thousands of sufferers who are now huddling together in vacant places, in one vast brotherhood of helpless wretchedness.

Coming now to H. K's letter, in which I am unjustifiably accused of breeding ill-feeling between Chinese and foreigners, while, in fact, I am releasing the legal liability of our foreign guests who happen to enter this ill-fortuned Cathay, I pray the public to be my jury and decide. He further alleges that Chinese school boys are airing their views, and that their letters should be corrected and scrutinised by their teachers. I wonder whether Mr. H. K. knows that China is a Republic and its constitution provides Freedom of Press, and liberty of expressing one's views, a right I have enjoyed for about two years ever since I entered the first year of the college, not only in this country but abroad as well (under some sort of nom de plume). His letter was written under the heading "Semi English," but he did not explain this quotation. I do not quite understand by this term. Do you, Mr. H. K., mean that the language with which I am writing is "Semi-English," i.e. "Chinese English," "Pidgin English," or "Broken English?" Granting it is "Semi-English," I write it with a view to expressing my opinion, and that is all I am driving at. It is no literary production which must be refined and polished. I challenge you, Mr. H. K., if you could only write a letter in Chinese just as "Semi" as my English, then the World would know no better linguist than you.

L. E. Tsao.

P.S. I deprecate further controversy concerning this subject as it may induce grosser misinterpretation of my bona fide intention.

Shanghai, Nov. 30, 1924.

MORE LAST WORDS ON THE TAG DAY EPISODE

Editor, The China Press:

Sir.—In your Sunday's Correspondence Column "H. K." criticises the letters on Tag Day experience which you have recently published as being "Lots of tommy-rot," for they cause ill-feeling between foreigners and Chinese. I see no reason why the foreign community in Shanghai should feel irritated because the misbehavior of a few of its members have been brought to light. What the writers of these letters are endeavoring to do is to give facts. Does "H. K." think that facts should be suppressed, or else, has he a personal disliking for them?

"H. K." is absolutely free to disagree to opinions expressed in the letters above-mentioned, but why should he huriedly pass a harsh judgement on the whole student body of China? Why should students be discouraged in expressing their opinion? Why should college faculties substitute school censorship for that of the government? I urge "H. K." to refrain from writing articles which unnecessarily arouse the resentment of a class of people.

STUDENTS AND THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:

Sir.—In the Correspondence Column of your today's paper H. K. complained of the poor English used by Chinese school-boys in their letters recently published in your columns.

It seemed that these school-boys have hit the tender spot of H. K. otherwise he would not have made such bold suggestions in his letter.

Rather be criticised than to remain silent when they felt that they really had something to tell the foreigners in their midst these students ventured to speak through THE CHINA PRESS, which has always been sufficiently generous and open-minded to allow them space.

On the other hand, if H. K., or any other foreigner for that matter, had a just complaint to make against the Chinese and the only means of doing so is through the Chinese press he, too, would do the same even in poor Chinese as these students have done in unidiomatic English. For a Chinese to make mistakes in English is common but equally common, if not more so, is for a foregner to commit errors in Chinese. Certainly there is no disgrace in that! Thence, instead of reproaching we should admire these school-boys for their courage in writing.

H. K. characterised the students' statements as "hot-air." Be that as it may, nevertheless, there is much truth in what these seemingly unsophisticated youngsters said. H. K. would have taken a more admirable course had he attempted to disprove or explain their charges instead of dismissing them in the manner as he did.

As regards H. K.'s suggestion to have the students' communications all censured by their teachers before allowing them to be printed it is absurd. To censor such in order to correct their English may be possible, but to alter facts is impossible. Furthermore, teachers have no right to do such against the will of his pupils. If H. K.'s suggestion is carried into actual practice, the day will not be far off when teachers shall have the power to censor their pupils' letters to their pas and mas just to see if they use he right kind of English and write the right kind of things. To prevent ill-feeling between the Chinese and their foreign friends is not to prevent what the former may write, but for the latter to change their high-brow attitude towards the former.

By Mary Marshall

In Spite of Our Speed, We Live In An Age of Negligees, and Take Inspiration for Them From the Orient

We are apt to think that women of the present day and generation lead a most strenuous existence—and yet the fact remains that we have much more time for wearing of negligees than women of proceeding ages. At least our own more or less recent ancestresses never thought of spending as much time "en negligee" as we do.

It is said that the Empress Eugenie— certainly the most fashionable woman of the time—did not possess a negligee. She had a flannel dressing coat, something quite utilitarian that she wore over her shoulders when her hairdresser came every morning. Her busy life left no time for negligees. When she awoke in the morning she devoted herself to the long and serious business of getting dressed, and she removed one tightly laced, wide-skirted frock only to put on another or to get into bed.

It's hard to imagine American women of former generations going about in negligees as much as women of the present time do! To be sure mid-Victorian women had their tea gowns, but they were anything but negligee. They were boned and they usually had stiffened collars, they were lined and trained—anything but comfortable.

The woman of today looks to the Orient to find inspiration for her negligee attire. She finds it in Japan, in China, in Persia, in Cambodia, in Egypt, in Turkey and in many countries that she has not thought about since she studied school geography.

The negligee shown in the sketch appeared in the window of one of the smart shops not long ago, and one reason why it appeals so strongly to us, no douht, is that it follows no special Oriental fashion exclusively. It does look decidedly Persian, but no Persian, but no Persian woman could show you one like it. The trousers are cleverly made from a length of silk, hanging down from the waist to the ankles and then looped back to the waist again.

An ever-increasing number of American women are wearing these distinctly picturesque bifurcated garments—if trousers such as these could be regarded as bifurcated—for many occasions at home—for informal dinner they accept them as a matter of course.

This negligee shows a silver skirt and a Chinese sleeveless jacket of metallic stuff figured in stripes of gold and red, gold and black.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

SOMETHING NEW TO EAT

It is the frequent wish of the housewife that there were something new to eat under the sun, and yet when something really new appears on the culinary landscape the housewise is quite apt to look in askance. Every one of us has uttered the wish that there were some new sort of meat, and yet anything resembling a novelty in the line of meats is pretty sure to come up against strong opposition.

We accept beef, lamb, and pork because we are used to them. We feel that it is hardly good form even to mention horse meat, in spite of the fact that large quantities of this edible are consumed on the European continent. We cite as proof that the Chinese are uncivilised the fact that they eat bird nests and other delicacies, whereas we eat pate de fois gras—artificially fattened goose livers—and think nothing of it.

Now a new meat has actually appeared on the scene. It is called chevon, which is just a little more pretentious way of saying goat meat. This name was adopted after much deliberation by the goat growers of the Southwest and will no doubt become widely used as goat meat becomes more and more widely used. It is a name that might be compared with rayon, recently adopted to indicate artificial silk.

HANDKERCHIEF FAVORS

An attractive favor is a rose made from a handkerchief. Some of the shops are selling them, but you could make them yourself. The handkerchief—and it is the prettiest of pink or yellow, though green and blue "roses" are made—is folded and twisted into a real semblance of a rose. Then a stem with leaves attached of the artificial sort is fastened to the linen rose, and the thing is finished. It is a most attractive thing for a small gift or for place favors. It would do, too, for a little prize.

"Within The Law"

Norma Talmadge has given the screen one of the most gripping dramas of recent years in her picturisation of "Within the Law," the picture which opened a week's engagement at the Carlton Theater Sunday matinee.

As Mary Turner, a department store employe sent to prison for a theft that another committed (the role in which Jane Cowl distinguished herself before the foot-lights), Miss Talmadge achieves the greatest emotional heights of her career.

In prison Mary Turner forms a friendship with Aggie Lynch, serving a term for blackmailing. Following her release, Mary makes unsuccessful efforts to obtain work. Desperate she tries suicide, but is saved by Joe Garson, a forger of Aggie's band. Mary finally agrees to join the gang if they will keep "Within the law." And so Mary and Aggie make a successful specialty of breach of promise suits. In Florida, the son of the department store owner, who had sent Mary to prison as an example, rescues Aggie from a faked drowning. He immediately becomes infatuated with Mary, who, knowing that he is the son of her arch enemy, decides to use him as a means of vengeance, despite the fact that she loves him.

The two girls return to New York, where Mary and Dick are married, much to the chagrin of Garson, who also loves Mary. She sends Dick to bring his father to her. Then the elder Gilder learns who she is. She denies her love for Dick, but he will not believe that she married him solely for vengeance.

Eventually, there is a letter which rights the matter of Mary's past and paves the way to a happy ending.

Jack Mulhall gives an excellent screen performance as Dick Gilder, while Eileen Percy, as Aggie Lynch, the blackmailer, contributes a characterisation that is particularly vivid.

Joseph Kilgour, Helen Ferguson, Warde Crane, Lionel Belmore, Catherine Murphy and Thomas Ricketts have roles of importance. Frank Lloyd, director of many successes, adds another to his credit with "Within the Law."
